

RUTH'S TWO HOMERUNS WIN FOR YANKEES

Walton Declines To Appear Before Oklahoma Legislators

McBee Chosen Unanimously As House Speaker

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 11.—W. D. McBee, the "Patrick Henry of Oklahoma," won the toga of a Speakership of the House of Representatives in the special session of the Legislature, opening here today.

McBee was unanimously chosen at the preliminary caucus here last night. 81 representatives answered roll call. The position of speaker pro tempore was left unfilled at the caucus session but it was indicated today that Charles Brice, McAlester, who has temporarily filled the place, would continue in that capacity with M. C. Binion, Oklahoma City as sergeant-at-arms.

No change in the Senate organization was made. Tom Anglin, Holden, Okla., continuing as president pro tem and Wash Hudson, Tulsa, as floor leader, it was stated.

No change in the plan of the House as to their procedure in the special session was announced. Immediate moves will be made toward the investigation of the official acts of the administration from that of the state executive on down the scale, according to Speaker McBee today.

House Members Considering Executive Message

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11.—Reversing his decision at the last minute Governor Walton declined to appear before the Legislators with a personal message, and turned it over to House members for consideration. No reason was given for change in his plans. House members are considering the message.

Called into extraordinary session by a proclamation issued by the governor, dated October 6, more than 100 members of the Oklahoma Legislature heard the plea of the state executive for the passage of a measure underwriting law and order.

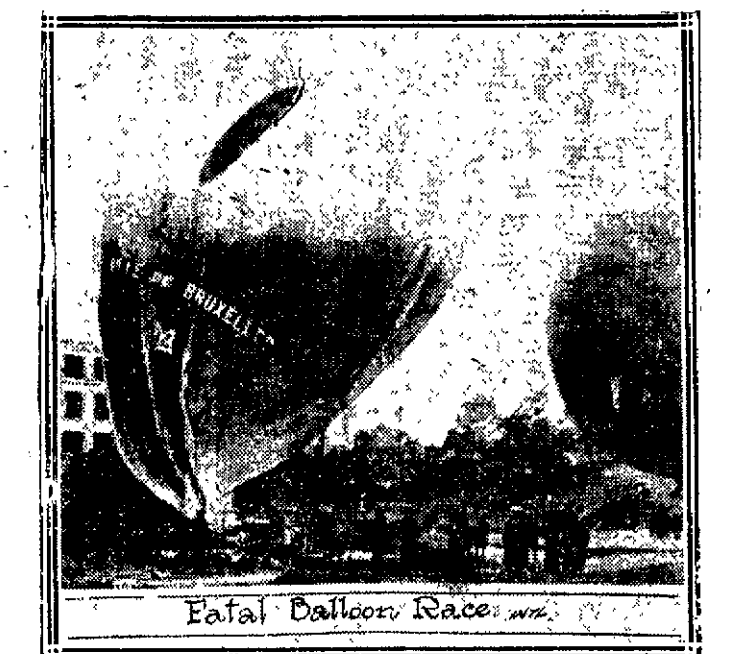

In his plea for the passage of an anti-klan measure, designed to make the wearing of the mask a felony punishable by fine and imprisonment, the governor declared: "The law which you pass must not be a makeshift, merely as an expediency measure only, but it must be in truth, in fact and in law, one that has teeth and will meet the alarming situation."

Community Power And Light Company To Spend $250,000 In Improvements In Mexia And Surrounding Places

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—A dozen Central Texas towns, heretofore furnished electric power as units of two individual groups, have been drawn together in a single group provided in articles of incorporation chartered Oct. 1 as the Community Power and Light Company, and henceforth will be operated by the one concern. Detailed announcement of the plans of operation of the new concern were made Wednesday from the office of Fred A. Jones in the Interurban Building. Mr. Jones will be president of the Community Power and Light Company and direct the operations.

The two properties that have been organized into a single corporation are in the vicinity of Mexia and Marlin. The Mexia group of properties was acquired by Mr. Jones 8 months ago and have been operated under his direction during the time he has been negotiating for the taking over of both sets of properties by the new organization. The Mexia group includes an electric power plant and distribution systems at Mexia and distribution systems at Wortham, Tehuacana, Coolidge, and Groesbeck. It includes also an ice plant at Teague.

The Belgian entry had to be deflated and withdrawn from the contest.

Martial Law Lifted In Oklahoma Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11.—Martial law was lifted from Oklahoma today. Announcement calling off of military rule, declared by Governor Walton September 15, was made by Aldrich Blake, executive counselor. The order is effective immediately. Troops will be sent home at once and military courts automatically suspended. Only scattered bodies of troops are on duty throughout the state, and these will be dismissed today.

"Committees will be put to work without delay and their reports should be forthcoming within a few days," he declared.

"Despite the charges made against some members of the House relative to membership in the Ku Klux Klan, and the attitude of the governor toward a special session, the House will be guided by its findings. We shall be as quick to acquit as to condemn," McBee declared.

The question of the offer of the governor to resign from office upon passage of his proposed anti-klan bill immediately after the opening of the session was not discussed at the caucus.

Yankees Get Off On The Wrong Foot

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. Off on the wrong foot again, the New York Yankees were facing the prospect of having some unkind and bit of 1921 and 1922 history repeat themselves at the world series today with the Giants.

Baseball Magician And Mighty Babe Fight It Out For World Pennant

By PAUL R. MASON.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The grounds down in a dug-out at the Bronx, John McGraw, manager of the Yankees, conjured, bashed and master mind.

From his nimble fingers, which were visible wires and with a dangle of nine mannequins upon the field.

At the plate stands George Herman Ruth, the mighty Babe. In his fists he carries a caveman club. With it he pokes at the invisible wires of John McGraw, slashes and batters at them. With speedy legs he races around the bases, races against the invisible waves of the conjurer.

This is the world series of 1923 between the Yankees and the Giants, a tale-tell between John McGraw, master mind and Babe Ruth, the ter ball player. An age old battle around the bases, races against the invisible waves of the conjurer.

It is known that Mr. Jones will be president, but final organization has not been effected. Other Texas men who have taken a leading part in handling the negotiations and who

It was Casey Stengel who pounded out the winning run for the Nationals, but it was John McGraw who made it possible.

McGraw uses the simplest signals in the world. With them he directs practically every ball that is pitched to the Yankee batters. With them he tells his batter when to hit and when not to.

The conjurer works upon simple principles. He believes that the judgment of a man on the bench, out of the thrill of the contest is better than the man working under the excitement of an actual play. He believes he can tell about seven times out of whether the next bat is going to strike or a ball. He believes that an outguess the Yankee batter on the bench better than any one in the field.

McGraw gives his signals with his hands and the position of his body. They are relayed when the team is in the field by Snyder or Gowdy, his catchers.

Watson was taken out of the box yesterday because he refused to obey these signals, it is learned. Watson thought he knew what was best to do. McGraw let him get by with it for three innings and then jerked him. The Yankees had hit Watson for three runs.

"You can sit there for a while and watch how this team is run," McGraw sarcastically remarked when Watson came in from the mound.

The Yankee attack and defense is centered around Babe Ruth. No matter how many stars or near-stars are on the team, it wins only when Ruth is good and loses only when he is bad.

Ruth is in top condition this year and McGraw's brain is as alert as it ever was.

The feud is on and one of them will win the baseball championship of the world.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Yesterday was John McGraw's day. Today is Babe Ruth's. He's the Yankee hero; forever enshrined in baseball as the wizard of the home run world. He knocked 2 home runs in the second game of the world's series and the Yankees won the first game against the Giants in the past two years by two scores. The game was 4 to 2 in favor of the Yanks who went a visiting today in Polo Grounds.

Clouds were heavy over the Polo Grounds when the crowds strained to witness the beginning of the second game in the world's baseball series in the home of the Giants this afternoon. The sun was not in view and the sky was completely overcast with the temperature higher and some prospect of showers. It was believed, however, that the game could be finished without interference from the elements. The crowd in the grand stand was estimated at 30,000 at 12:58. The attendance the first day was over 60,000.

The first game was played in the Yankee stadium, where the Yanks were slightly favored, playing at home. Today, the scene shifted. At the Polo ground the Giants were at home, and with a one game lead on their ancient foes, they were favored to win.

Last year the second game was a Pipp who had 21 batting chances in the 1922 series and made 236 per cent went out. Groh to Kelly. Groh made a beautiful catch. Ward was next up, with a low average of 153 per cent at the bat last year. Knocking a home run into upper left field, a wonderful drive, and the first score of the game.

Schlag pumped up to Snider, foul-out. Scott, batting average 143 out of 11 times up in 5 games last year, flew out to Meusel. 1 run, 1 no errors.

The game opened for the Giants. Last year he played in 5 world series games and established a high batting average of 375 per cent. He topped out to Yankee third baseman Dugan. It was then E. Meusel's time up. He played in 5 games last year and made a batting average of 250 per cent. He duplicated the feat of Ward, knocking a homer into the same spot, tying the score. Cunningham's games last year, with an average at bat of 200 per cent, flew out to Babe Ruth, who made a beautiful catch. Kelly, 5 games, 278 average, singled on first ball pitched. Snider went out on a pop up to Ward. 1 run, 2 hits and no errors.

Pennock was first man to bat for the Yankees in the third. He did not play with the club last season. He went out, Bush to Kelly. Witt came up for his second trip to the bat in today's game, going out Bush to Kelly. Dugan flew out to Meusel, knocking the ball near the left field wall. No runs, no hits and no errors.

ten inning tie between the same two teams that are now playing baseball as never before. Last year the Giants had won the first game just as they did Wednesday. The third game in 1922 was also won by the Giants 3 to 0; the fourth by 4 to 3 and the fifth by 5 to 3.

When the game began it was estimated that 45,000 were in attendance, game starting at 2:02 p. m.

The Yanks were first up. Witt, center fielder, went out. Frisch to Kelly. His average at the bat last year was 222 per cent out of 13 times up. Dugan third baseman, accepted 4 balls of McGraw, walking to first. With a record of 41 home runs this year, Babe Ruth advanced to the plate next and was also given a free pass to first. R. Meusel hit into a double play, Baneroff to Bush to Kelly. No runs, no hits, and no errors.

Baneroff, with a percentage of 211 in last year's series out of 18 times up, went out on a grounder, Scott to Pipp. Groh, with a batting average of 444 in 19 trips to the bat last year, went out. Pennock to Pipp. Frisch went out at first. Ward to Pipp. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Baneroff hit out to Meusel. Groh was given a pass, Frisch up. His bat flew out of his hand down third base line, on first ball thrown at him, second time.

8 School Children Killed When Train Crashes Into Motor Bus At Crossing; Second Similar Accident Of Day Kills 3

23 Indicted On Felony Charges

TEAGUE, Texas, Oct. 11.—Judge J. R. Bell called a special grand jury in the district court at Fairfield last week, which has since reported 23 felony indictments, including one for murder at Wortham and another for rape in the eastern part of the county.

The Weather
Tonight and Friday, cloudy; unsettled and warmer.

ATWATER, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Eight children were killed and several injured today when a bus crowded with school children was demolished by the Cleveland, the fastest train in the Pennsylvania Railroad between New York and Cleveland.

The accident occurred at Lambert's Crossing, a short distance from here.

Calls were sent for doctors and nurses for miles around.

The engineer of the train saw the vehicle too late to jam on the brakes. A second later there was a terrific crash.

The children, some instantly killed, some dying and others badly injured, were hurled in all directions.

The locomotive plowed through the wreckage, scattering it along the right-of-way for several hundred feet.

As soon as the train came to a stop members of the train crew and passengers began picking up the victims.

While a score of passengers were picking up the victims, laying their injured and battered bodies at the back side, others rushed to the near-by farm house to send in telephone calls for help.

The bus was used by the county to convey children to and from the schools.

A few minutes after the crash the dead, dying and injured were placed on the train and rushed into Painesville, where doctors and nurses were waiting at the station.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 11.—A fast Pennsylvania express train crashed into a motor bus loaded with ten passengers at a grade crossing near here, completely wrecking the bus, killing three persons and injuring seven others, two perhaps fatally. The train was traveling at a high rate of speed when it crashed into the bus.

BROTHER MODERATOR

The legislative session convening in Oklahoma City today recalls an incident that happened in the Capitol of the Sooner State at the first meeting of the legislature held within its handsome walls. The imposing building then loomed high about the cotton stalks which surrounded it, about a mile from the residential district of Oklahoma City. When the first session of the legislature met the stalks had not been cut and the burrs were still hanging on. It was said that many of the statesmen then assembled felt so much at home in such an environment that they did most effective work. One good man occupying a desk in the Hall of Representatives for the first time, anxious to present a matter of prime importance to the Speaker arose and addressed the chair as "Brother, Moderator!"

The House was in an uproar for a few minutes, while the Speaker warned them to be moderate.

Moderateness, temperance and all other synonyms are in order in the Oklahoma legislature now. The representatives of the people must clear away all prejudices and false views more dangerous even than masks and enter upon their work with but one common purpose—the greatest good for the greatest number.

With the street in front of the high school closed while paving is in progress, some parking rules should be promulgated that would be protective of the public. Parking should be permitted on one side of the paving there. The street is made too narrow for passage almost when a line of automobiles line up parallel or angular.

Dengue fever is raging in many localities in Texas. This is a warning to Meila and to citizens everywhere to be vigilant eternally in seeing that all menaces to public health are carried promptly to the incinerator.

Without any statement from Jesse McLendon it is now fully understood by every one who knows the President of the Meila baseball club just how he happens to be vacating in New York City so long.

Texas has a large turkey crop this year. Many a gobbler will be shipped into this community for local consumption this year that ought to have been home-grown.

It should be very easy for local pastors and for the ministry throughout the United States to cooperate with fire prevention week.

Walton hasn't a chance for the banner with Casey at the bat.

SHRINERS BRING EMBREE SHOWS TO MEXIA

The Meila Shrine Club have engaged the Embree United Shows for the week beginning October 15th and will give this carnival in town for the week.

The show carries with it, the usual midway scenes, hot dogs, peanuts, confetti, various riding devices and a number of tent shows.

The grounds will be well lighted and will resemble very much Coney Island of New York.

Shriners will have charge of all shows and riding devices and will be seen on the grounds each night in air for, grabbing tickets and boosting the fun along.

Embree Shows have the reputation of being a first class, clean show in every respect, otherwise the Shriners would not have engaged them to Meila.

The Meila Shrine Club has quite an extensive program on hand at this time, nearing the approach of the firm of Werner, Denning and Lee for the construction of a modern private garage on north Canton street.

tion; furthermore they are right in the middle of rehearsals for a minstrel show which will be staged within the next two weeks, and they expect to be very active during the fall, staging many entertainments for the nobility and their ladies.

Waco, they expect to enter a float in the parade that will not only represent the Meila Shrine Club, but will represent the city of Meila in a large way and Meila will be made to feel that the Shrine Club is a prime factor in boosting for the home town, as Shriners everywhere are growing assets of their respective cities and are representatives of good citizenship.

A MOTHER IN HEAVEN

I do not want a house of gold,
Nor walls of jacinth rare,
I don't want a golden harp,
Or hale round my hair.

I only want a little place
Away from all the rest,
Where I can soothe a baby's cries,
Against my hungry breast.

...the fourth frame. He responded to the clamor in the stands from Yankee favorites to increase his home run record, by hitting a home run, the ball soaring high and into the upper stands in which two more balls had fallen in the same game. The stands went wild at this event, while Babe circled the diamond, having the edge on McGraw who was directing Glat play from behind the scenes of the maddening throng. R. Meusel fanned. Pipp singled. In front of Young in right field, who was too slow to gather it up. Ward popped to Kelley on a fluke bunt, Pipp remaining on first mound. Schang singled to right, Pipp advancing to third, when Young made the first error of the game. Scott singled to center field, scoring Pipp. McQuinnan was at this juncture relieved by Bentley in the pitcher's box. Pennock went to bat, Scott on first base and Schang on second. Pennock was hit by a ball, falling to the ground as if painfully hurt. Manager Higgins bitterly denounced Bentley, accusing him of doing it on purpose. The ball hit him in the back just below the neck. He was able to go to first, filling the bases. Witt flew out to Cunningham. 2 runs, 3 hits and 1 error.

E. Meusel up for the Giants gave Ward, second baseman, an opportunity to do some pretty fielding by knocking the ball to his part of the field, going out Ward to Pipp. Cunningham, center fielder, flew out to Ruth. Kelly fanned. No runs, no hits and no errors. Score to date: Yanks 3, Giants 1.

Dugan went out Bancroft to Kelly. Ruth set the stands crazy by hitting his second home run of the game, the ball going into the lower right field stand. R. Meusel singled to right and took second when Young fumbled for the third error of the game. Pipp went out to Kelly at first, Meusel going to third. Ward fouled out to Kelly. 1 run, 2 hits, 1 error.

Snider flew out to Meusel. Bentley came to bat. The outfield moved back as if expecting something. It was the pitcher's first time up. He went out Ward to Pipp. Bancroft went out Scott to Pipp. No runs, no hits, no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 1.

Sixth inning:
Schang went out on first ball pitched, his hard drive nicely handled, Bancroft to Kelly. Scott singled, making it to first safely. Pennock was next up. Scott was almost caught trying to leave first. Pennock hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelly. No runs, 1 hit and no errors.

Groh singled over second base. Frisch singled to left field. Groh to third. Young singled forcing Frisch to second, Groh scoring. Cunningham next up fell into a double play, Scott to Ward to Pipp. 1 run, 2 hits and no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Seventh inning:
Witt out Bentley to Kelly. Dugan out Bentley to Kelly. Ruth was up again. The outfield moved far into the back ground. He was given a free trip to first and was caught trying to steal second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kelly fouled out to Pipp. Snider flew out to Meusel on first ball pitched. Bentley doubled over second on the ninth ball thrown, making it to second by a slide. Bancroft flew out to Dugan who caught the ball against the wall. No runs, no hits, no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Eighth Inning:
Meusel fouled out to catcher behind the plate. Pipp walked. Ward singled past Bancroft, Pipp advancing one base. Schang flew out to Meusel near the third base line. Scott flew out to Meusel on first ball pitched. No runs, 1 hit and no errors.

Groh went out Dugan to Pipp. Frisch out Scott to Pipp. Young singled on first ball pitched, beyond Scott. E. Meusel singled to right field, Young going to third. Gowdy flew out to Witt. Two hits, no runs and no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Ninth Inning:
Stengel went to center field for Cunningham. (Pennock has fully recovered from hit ball.) Pennock, first up, went out on second ball thrown, Bancroft to Kelly. Witt out Frisch to Kelly. Ruth went to bat, Dugan on second base. He flew out to Stengel. ON runs, no hits and no errors.

Kelly went out, Dugan to Pipp, on first ball. Snyder went out on second ball pitched, Scott to Pipp. Jackson flew out to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Game called at 2:02. Time of game 2 hours and 10 minutes.

Umpires: O'Day behind plate; Nal-lin, behind first base; Hart, second base; Evans third base.

Line up same as Wednesday except the batteries which started out Yanks, Pennock and Schang; Giants, Mc-Quinnan and Snyder.

COMMUNITY POWER —Yd.

will have voices in the management of the enterprise include George H. Carter, attorney, who has figured in all of the negotiations; Julius Nussbaum of Meila, N. A. Nama of Marlin and W. D. Alexander of Meila. E. E. Neiswanger, for ten years chief engineer of the Texas Light and Power Company, has been supervising the engineering work and will be retained, Mr. Jones said.

Grover C. Bland, Texas representative of Haskins & Sells, also will remain identified with the company as auditor of the properties.

Wiley F. Cori of St. Louis, representative of St. Louis financial interests which have helped to finance the concern, is in Dallas, and with Mr. Jones will begin an immediate survey of the properties that probably will require two weeks.

"It is our purpose," Mr. Jones said "to maintain all of the service that is now being given and to serve the territory we are invading in the best way we possibly can. We plan also to improve the service in every way possible, and when the $250,000 already provided is spent there will be more provided if we need it to give the proper kind of service."

YANKS GET

out; Schang doubled in the sixth with two out; Rugan tripled in the seventh with one out and Pipp singled in the eighth with one out—and the Yankees didn't score.

Stupid base running by Witt and Pipp and the over-daring of Babe Ruth in trying as Ruth always tries to win cost the Yankees the game.

Jimmy O'Connell the $75,000 California beauty remarked quietly after the game:

"The best way to beat the Yankees is to let them get on bases because they don't know what to do when they get there."

The mental alertness and the mechanical perfection of the Giants stopped every chance the Yankees had to win the game. Stengel's home run in the ninth inning was the decisive punch that caused the Yankees to take the count but it was George Kelly's miraculous stop of Ruth's sure double in the seventh and his phenomenal throw to the plate cutting off Dugan that stopped a winning rally by the Yankees.

No play in any series. Any game could compare with this action, quick-thinking and action provided by Kelly—the sensational Rawlings, Groh out in the 1921 series.

The Giants all figured they were "in" now.

"That victory will be worth more than if we had beaten them 15 to 0," one of the Giant players said today.

"If they had gone down in a one-sided game they would have thought that fine pitching stopped them, that they had all the bad breaks or that they were in a slump. But they put-hit us and we out-thought them and they knew they should have won the game. The Yankees can't think. They know it and they know that they can't learn to think in a few days."

The Giant players feel that they would take the series in straight games if they had Herb Pennock out of the way in the opener. The champions do not attempt to deny that they regard the lefthanded former Boston pitcher very seriously.

Pennock no doubt will pitch today, for the Yankees and it is almost certain that Art Nehf, the Giant south-paw, will oppose him. Nehf was ready to go yesterday and he was peeved that he wasn't selected.

With Pennock in the box for the Yankees the Giants will make a switch in the outfield where Bill Cunningham will replace Casey Stengel. The other positions on the defense will be manned by the same agile, quick-thinking athletes.

All the Yankee regulars bat against and they all think the same way lefthanded and righthanded pitching against all kinds of pitching. As long as the Yankees refuse to exercise their mental apparatus, the alleged weakness of the Giant pitching staff will be no factor in the series.

The Giant players probably will tell their pitchers—"let 'em get on base and we'll take care of 'em for you."

For spectacular playing yesterday, Stengel and Kelly held the limelight, but Frank Frisch, the brilliant Fordham star, had as much to do with the victory as any one. He made two phenomenal plays that cut off runs he was all over the field.

The official paid attendance was 55,307 which made a new series record was 58,000. The receipts, which also and the actual attendance probably established a new record, were $131,912, which was divided as follows: Advisory council $27,286.80; each club's share $30,925.05, players share, $92,755.12.

SAN ANTONIO—Six new gas wells in the McMullen county have been contracted for to be drilled at once to increase the supply of natural gas for this city, according to the company which supplies the local distributing company.

French Underwear in Corset
Then Now

For simplicity and novel detail the new lingerie offerings of Paris surpass anything that previous seasons have presented. The combination idea is expressed in many delightful ways that not only achieve novelty, but fit in with the plans to keep the figure slender and sylph-like.

A brassiere and undergarment combined in this undergarment, which should be made of glove silk, radium tulle or a good firm quality crepe de chine. It is exquisite in its simplicity and the materials that Paris favors are flower tinted and delicate—orchid, tea rose, blue-bell and daisy.

The brassiere effect is formed by stitching bands of tape on the reverse side of the vest. These form casings through which ribbon is run and when the fulness is drawn in, one gets the snugness of the brassiere that holds the figure in form without uncomfortable restriction.

After the ribbon is inserted in the casing, it is brought through to the right side of the undergarment, being passed through embroidered eyelets. Either a double or single strand of thread may be used for working the eyelets. First pierce the eyelets with a needle, then make small running stitches entirely around the eyelet. Keep shaping the eyelet as you work. Next, overcast the eyelet. Draw the thread as tightly as possible without letting the stitches crowd on top of one another. All of the stitches should be made to lie flat, close and even. Pull the thread on the underside with two or three loop stitches, taken through the threads of the overcasting stitches, and not through the material.

Correct stitching on wrong side on garment with ribbon run through and tied on right side

Do not make the eyelets too close where the casings end, otherwise the material will wear faster than is necessary. If very wide ribbon is used, make oblong eyelets instead of round ones. If a heavy effect is desired, the eyelet may be padded slightly before it is worked. Button-holing as well as overcasting stitches may be employed when making eyelets. The buttoned eyelet is very durable and is preferable when the eyelets are very large.

The lower edge of the vest may be hemmed by hand or by machine. If the hem is put in with a machine, the shoulder straps may be made of ribbon or of

IGNORANCE EXCUSES

If you haven't learned about Black and White Ointment which is doing such almost miraculous things for people who had tried many things in desperation trying to get rid of pimples, blotches, bumps, eczema, "breaking out," etc., your friends, and people who see you, won't excuse you for still having these ugly things all over your face, neck, arms, or hands.

Nearly two million packages of Black and White Ointment are being used a year, which just proves its wide use and tremendous popularity with the people whose skin it has cleared up.

Any dealer can supply you. So there is no excuse to keep being bothered with your skin troubles. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size.—(Adv.)

Dependability

DEPENDABILITY is one of the most comforting words in the English language. You retire on board ship, or in your berth secure in the knowledge that the captain or engineer can be depended upon. And when you have money in this bank the same sense of security and dependability brings you a good nights sleep every twelve hours.

FARMERS STATE BANK

Outlook Is Brightened

According to a report made to the board of directors of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce by the secretary who attended an Industrial Conference in Dallas on Oct. 4th, it appeared that interest in the building of cotton mills in the Southwest, on the part of investors in the East, is beginning to revive.

J. Perry Burris, president of Dallas Textile Mills and founder and President of McKinney Cotton Mill, and who is also chairman of the Industrial Committee of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, stated at the meeting Saturday that he had just returned from a trip to Northern, Eastern and Southern states. According to Mr. Burris, labor conditions in the New England states are constantly growing more and more unsatisfactory and a number of the eastern mills are closed, one very large mill manufacturing a well known brand of ging-ham being closed within the last few days. Due to the exodus of negro labor to the north and to the ravages of the boll weevil, the cotton crop in the South-eastern states has been enormously reduced and the mills in these states are going to be forced to look to Texas for a large part of their raw material.

Cotton mill men are becoming more imbued with the idea that the mill should be located in the cotton patch, so to speak. That is, the factory should be where the raw material is produced. It is estimated that in 1923 Texas will raise about 33% of all the cotton crop, and it appears that the dry period in the summer tends to reduce the ravages of the boll weevil and will more than likely increase preponderance of Texas cotton production as compared with the other cotton producing states. There has not been the exodus of cotton producing labor from Texas as has occurred in the other states, and it therefore appears that for a number of years to come Texas will be advantageously situated for the manufacture of cotton goods and from all signs it looks as though the present was a favorable time to revive and put over the Mexia textile mills.

Everything possible is being done pending the return to Mexia of J. K. Hughes, chairman of the Industrial Committee. In fact, the Chamber of Commerce is now in touch with an experienced cotton mill operator who will make a considerable investment and who is capable of designing, building and operating the mill. Should the promotion go through and the trade with the party referred to, he in the Mexia mill. It also appeared that there has been a popular misconception in the minds of the cotton mill people generally as to the labor situation of Mexia. Some of them believe that the presence of the oil field will make cotton mill labor hard to obtain but the Chamber of Commerce believes that since they have been advised of this misapprehension that they will have no trouble in abating the minds of those having this opinion. They are now engaged in compiling a report as to the wages paid in every conceivable line of business and industry and the report will be rendered as soon as compiled to the people desiring same.

Pending the return of Chairman Hughes of the cotton mill committee, the Chamber of Commerce states that they do not feel at liberty to make any authorized statement giving names, etc., until he returns and calls the committee together, but the Chamber of Commerce feels that they are nearer on the right track now than they have ever been before on the cotton mill proposition and they would like for the public to know that they are still at it, though they have had many difficulties to contend with, but they have not given up hope and have been at work constantly.

FACTS ABOUT PRESIDENTS

(From the Kansas City Star)

A study of the lives of the thirty presidents of the United States reveals numerous interesting facts, coincidences and odd features. For instance, only one of them was a bachelor. James Buchanan, Scotch-Irish, holds that distinction. Buchanan was the fifteenth president. His home, when elected, was Wheatland, Pa. He was inaugurated when 65 years old. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. He died June 1, 1868, when 77 years old. William Henry Harrison was the oldest man elected to the presidency and Theodore Roosevelt the youngest. Harrison was in at 68 and Roosevelt at 42. Grant was the next youngest at six months.

General Benjamin Harrison, the twenty-third president, was the great-grandson of Benjamin Harrison, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and was the grandson of William Henry Harrison, American general and ninth president.

Washington and Monroe were soldiers of the Revolutionary war, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Jackson, Taylor and Buchanan were in the war of 1812. Lincoln served in the Black Hawk war; Taylor, Pierce and Grant in the Mexican war; Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Benjamin Harrison and McKinley in the Civil war. Theodore Roosevelt fought in the Spanish-American war.

President Cleveland was a bachelor

One president has been a spy, following in the footsteps of his father. The sixth president, John Quincy Adams, was the son of the second president, John Adams. Of the thirty presidents, seven were born in Virginia, and five were residents of Virginia when elected. Ohio, the home State of the late President Harding, was the birth State of seven presidents. Six presidents lived in Ohio when elected. President Coolidge was born in Vermont, as was President Arthur. Three presidents were born in North Carolina and three in New York. Massachusetts was the home State of two presidents, John Adams and John Quincy Adams. One president was born in Pennsylvania, one in Kentucky and one in New Jersey.

As to ancestry, sixteen of the presidents show English parentage, Washington, John Adams, and John Quincy Adams, Madison, Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, Tyler Taylor Fillmore, Pierce, Lincoln, Johnson, Garfield, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, Taft and Coolidge. Six were of Scotch-Irish ancestry; three of Scotch, one of Welch, one of Scotch-Holland and two of Dutch. The nation was without a president for just four hours and forty-seven minutes after President Harding died at San Francisco.

This is the shortest period the highest office of the land has been vacant after the death of a chief executive. When President William Henry Harrison, the first national executive to die in office, passed away April 4, 1841, two days elapsed before his successor, John Tyler, took the oath of office and became president. President Taylor died in office July 9, 1850, and Millard Fillmore, the vice president, took office the following day.

President Garfield died September 19, 1881, and was succeeded one day later by Chester A. Arthur. A little more than thirteen hours intervened between the death of President William McKinley, who died September 14, 1901, and the accession of Theodore Roosevelt. President McKinley died at 2:15 o'clock the morning of September 14. President Roosevelt took the oath as president at 8:30 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, immediately after he had visited Mrs. McKinley to offer his condolence.

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 11.—"I wonder what's going to happen next?" C. J. Chandler told attendants when he left the Baptist hospital here recently. The day Chandler arrived here from Padron, Texas, to enter a barber college his suit case and all his clothes were stolen. That night someone took all his savings—$78. Wandering around town, broke, he landed a job in a fig orchard near here. Coming to town in a truck with the farmer an automobile sideswiped his truck and Chandler was bruised and cut by broken glass. "Houston sure is a hard place for a country boy," Chandler said as he walked down the steps of the hospital.

Worth Library

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 11.—Is the copy of the fresco "The Dispute of the Scriptures" missing from the Carnegie Library here worth $10,000 or valueless?

That is the question that has arisen since the copy disappeared from the library several weeks ago.

Mrs. Charles Scheuber, librarian, says it is ridiculous to value the copy at $10,000 as J. H. Enfield, who owns the picture, claims. Enfield obtained the picture while serving in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war. He declared the canvas won first prize at the Paris Exhibition in 1887.

Mrs. Scheuber said a young man brought the painting to the library several months ago to be stored. It was put away and forgotten by her. Some time ago a young man called and asked for the painting and it was given to him. Later Enfield appeared and asked for the copy. He was told it already had been called for and taken.

Enfield has threatened suit against the library.

Lynn, the artist who made the copy is unknown among art critics here.

MONKEY BUSINESS

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 11.—Building Inspector Smith indulged in a little "monkey business" last week. He issued a permit for a $11,750 brick monkey house to be erected at the local zoo.

"I'll show them," said the hen, as she kicked the porcelain egg out of the nest. "They can't make a brick-layer out of me."

sands at the State Fair this year, Dallas, Oct. 13-23, through exhibits by the Taft Ranch Company, the S. A. & A. P. Railroad and the American Rio Grande Land and Development Company. Twenty-two counties will have representation by the railroad company; the Taft company's lands are located in San Patricio county, and those of the irrigation company in Hidalgo county.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. R. Alford by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the 1st Monday in November, A. D. 1923, the same being the 6th day of November, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer an amended petition filed in said court on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court as No. 2456, wherein J. R. Alford is plaintiff, and N. F. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood, C. B. Jackson and J. R. Alford are defendants, said petition alleging that N. F. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood and C. B. Jackson are partners and doing business under the firm name of Commercial Hotel Company, and J. R. Alford was doing business under the trade name of the Rex Cafe; that plaintiff at the special instance and request of the defendant, Commercial Hotel Company sold to them on the several dates specified in an account certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries needed in running said business; that in consideration of the sale of said goods, defendant promised to pay therefor the amount charged in said account, being $604.20; that on October 14, 1921, plaintiff at the instance and request of defendant Rex Cafe sold and delivered to it goods, wares and merchandise which said Rex Cafe agreed to pay to the amount charged therefor same being $620.68; that said cafe was run by J. R. Alford until December 16, 1921, when he sold an interest in said cafe to the Commercial Hotel Company; that at that time said cafe owed this plaintiff the sum of $589.88; that on or about December 16, 1921, J. R. Alford doing business under the name of Rex Cafe being indebted to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company in the sum of $573.91 the said N. F. Ferguson, and J. R. Alford represented to plaintiff that the said sum of $573.91 would not have to be paid within thirty days if he, the said Ferguson, would purchase an interest in the Rex Cafe; that said Commercial Hotel Company would pay said $573.91 within thirty days; plaintiff agreed to said contract and in pursuance thereof the said Ferguson, Underwood and Jackson purchased an interest in said cafe and in consideration thereof promised to pay plaintiff and the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the amount mentioned. That the said J. R. Alford transferred to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company an interest in the Rex Cafe and placed them in possession thereof.

Plaintiff would show to the Court that on November 8, 1921, and January 13, 1922, the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company sold and delivered to the Rex Cafe certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries for which said Cafe agreed to pay the amount set out in said account the total being the sum of $820.26; that J. R. Alford at that time was the owner of said Cafe, the said Alford being indebted to a number of persons among whom was the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company who sold to said Commercial Hotel Company the said Rex Cafe, agreed to pay said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the indebtedness that the Rex Cafe then owed the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. And afterwards incurred debts to the amount of $106.35 which it promised to pay the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. That afterwards the manager of the Rex Cafe gave to said Grocery Company its check for $492.71 which check was turned down and not paid. That on January 14, 1922, said Hotel Company gave a check to said Wholesale Grocery Company for the sum of $106.35 which check was turned down. Plaintiff would show that it has purchased of said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company for a valuable consideration the indebtedness due said Grocery Company from the Rex Cafe and the Commercial Hotel and the same has not yet been paid and plaintiff is entitled to recover said account.

That all of the said accounts are due and unpaid, and the defendants and each of them have refused to pay any part to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1845.14.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a trial hereof they have judgment for said $1845.14 with interest cost of suit, and such other and further relief, as it may be entitled.

Herein fail not, and have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this 4th day of October, A. D. 1923.

Arouses Concern Of The Great Men Of The Nation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Enforcement of the Volstead Act will soon reach the floor of the Senate, according to Senator William E. Borah. This prediction was made in a letter to Fred B. Smith, one of the executive secretaries of the Citizenship Conference to be held in Washington, Oct. 13, 14, and 15.

This Conference was called by 758 men and women in the interest of law observation with special reference to the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act. In connection with the conference Mr. Smith gave out today comments received from men all over the country. They include such leaders as Senator Borah, Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes, Congressman A. T. Smith, William Jennings Bryan, President McCracken of Vassar, Rabbi Wise and several bishops and clergymen, college presidents, business men and labor leaders.

Some of the comments are as follows: Roy A. Haynes, Federal Prohibition Commissioner: "I believe that it is most necessary that there be a great arousement of the Christian citizenship of America—who brought the Eighteenth Amendment into being—in order that they may again see their great responsibility in the enforcement work, for it can be successfully done only through a thoroughly-aroused patriotic, devoted, consecrated citizenship."

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho: "I am in deep sympathy with the object of the Citizenship Conference. This question is going to soon reach the floor of the Senate and certainly there I will be in attendance."

Dave Williams, International Vice President, International Association of Machinists, of Allentown, Penn.: "I am in hearty accord with the Citizenship Conference and you can depend on me and the weekly paper we print, the 'Pennsylvania Labor Herald,' to support it to the limit."

Huston Quin, Louisville, Ky.: "I think it of vital importance that such a conference be called."

The Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins of Philadelphia: "It is high time for law-abiding citizens to take a stand against lawlessness. The enemy is subtle but persistently securing advantage amongst the people, high and low. We must be ready to meet and engage them if we would avoid a national disaster."

H. B. Garby of Dayton, Ohio: "I think that the conference will help to bring the attention of the country to the necessity of having all good citizens vote to the fact that there is a growing sentiment of mob rule, and letting down on the part of officials the enforcement of our laws."

President J. Knox Montgomery, Washington College, New Concord, Ohio: "I am thoroughly convinced that the hour has struck for all the Christian forces of the nation to unite in seeking to awaken a new conception of the sanctity of law and to arouse a new sense of loyalty to the Constitution."

Rabbi Stephen Wise of New York: "You can count on me to the limit on this great move."

Dr. John R. Mott, General Secretary, International Committee of Young Men's Christian Association: "My whole soul is in the purpose you have in view."

President Mary E. Walley, Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.: "Respectable citizens have seemed divisions to the fact that they were practically anarchist and undermining the very foundations of our government. We are actually confronted by the question whether a democracy can exist and it is time for the people to realize the critical situation."

President Charles Bayard Mitchell of St. Paul, Minn.: "In a day when there is such organized effort to defeat the will of the people as expressed in the Eighteenth Amendment, it is high time that all the constructive forces of the nation shall confer together to see that our Constitution is respected and that the will of the people be obeyed."

William Jennings Bryan of Florida: "The Citizenship Conference is very important."

J. C. Penney of New York: "The significance of such a meeting as the Citizenship Conference to my mind is very important."

President John W. Hoffman of Ohio Wesleyan University: "Never has the nation faced a more serious crisis. If the law can be violated with impunity no law is binding. I shall be glad to co-operate in every way possible."

President H. W. Cox of Emory University, Ga.: "I believe that one of the greatest needs today is a definite concerted action on the part of the Christian men and women to maintain and promote a law-abiding citizenship in America."

Frederick L. Fagley, Associate Secretary, National Council of Congregational Churches, New York City: "I think now is the time for every man in whose soul there is one drop of true patriotism to stand with every other man and woman of good will and righteous purpose that we may be a law-abiding people."

A. P. Watkins of Jackson, Miss.: "Surely there has never been a time in the history of our country when the call for such a conference was more imperatively demanded than at this time."

President I. J. Good, Indiana Central College, Indianapolis: "The condition that is being brought about by the effect of the wet element surely warrants the calling of the Citizenship Conference. It is worth such a conference to get the facts before the people and to call attention to the fact that there must be eternal vigilance."

Herbert K. Twitchell of New York City: "The time is opportune to arouse the law-abiding spirit of our people. A well financed propaganda against prohibition has done a lot of damage."

O. J. Bond, Charleston, S. C.: "I think the Citizenship Conference is timely, for the liquor interests are no doubt using a widespread propaganda to undermine the sentiment in favor of prohibition in the United States."

Edwin L. Shuey of Dayton, Ohio: "In my mind this matter of law and order is the most serious problem we have to deal with, not only as it applies to the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act, but also as to all law. We are facing a very serious condition in this country of ours, and say nothing of the rest of the world."

Representative Charles B. Timberlake, Committee Ways and Means: "I am fully in harmony with the Citizenship Conference."

President Henry Nelson Snyder of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C.: "I think it is time for those Americans who believe in the Constitution and in the observance of the law of the land to get together for the purpose of putting the momentum of organized public sentiment into existing agencies for the enforcement of our laws."

President John O. Spencer of Morgan College, Baltimore: "There is no doubt as to the necessity of consolidated public opinion for a proper enforcement of the laws."

President C. E. Goodell of Franklin College, Franklin, Indiana: "The utter contempt shown in certain quarters for the Constitution of the United States and the laws of Congress that have to do with the manufacture and sale of liquor is a disgrace to our American citizenship."

President Joseph W. Mauck, Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich.: "The proposed Citizenship Conference of October 13-15 is most timely—indeed its inception should have been earlier."

President Henry Noble MacCracken of Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York: "A nation wide conference on the subject of the respect for law is urgently needed. There should be no dead letter laws upon the statute-books of Congress."

Amos R. Wells of Boston: "The call for the Citizenship Conference in Washington is certainly timely, and I rejoice in it."

Bishop William F. McDowell, Washington, D. C.: "The forces of law and respect for law must lead or civilization is doomed."

George Herbert Randall, Editor, St. Andrew's Cross, Philadelphia: "Like every other warfare, to stand against these conditions means that every atom of good moral influence must be mobilized so that it can in union with other like forces assert itself."

A. A. Murfree of Gainesville, Fla.: "My impression is that such a conference would quicken and renew the interest of the people for respect of the Constitution and the prohibition laws based upon the Eighteenth Amendment."

Carroll H. Sadler, Chicago: "The plan for a Citizenship Conference in October meets an outstanding need."

The Rev. Dr. James I. Vance, First Presbyterian Church, Nashville, Tenn.: "I am in hearty sympathy with the project."

President L. B. Bowers, Kansas Wesleyan University, Salina, Kansas: "Nothing threatens the stability of American civilization today as the apparent increasing disregard for law."

The Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton of New York: "Of course I am with the Citizenship Conference here, foot and dragon. The situation calls for loyalty to the law of the land by every body."

Among the chief speakers will be Herbert Hoover, president of the Association, who will deliver the opening address; Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation; Mrs. William Brown Meloney, noted author and editor, and a director of the Association; Mayor Frank E. Doremus, of Detroit; Dr. Haven Emerson, professor of Public Health Administration of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, who was Health Commissioner of New York from 1915 to 1917; Miss Maud Brown, who is a child health education specialist of nation-wide reputation; Dr. William J. Some of the topics for discussion and papers to be read will deal with "community programs for child health," "how the general public can bring about better co-ordination of community activities for child health," "the workers in child health education and their duties," "practical methods of teaching health to children," and "the newer phases of public health nursing, and the health of the child in relation to athletics and physical training."

This is a tentative list and is expected to be augmented as the convention draws nearer.

The convention, as the association's first, is expected to be the forerunner of others which will serve annually to bring together the child health experts of the country for suggestion and solution of subjects which will raise child and maternal health in the United States to a higher plane. Since its organization in January, from a merger to the old American Child Hygiene Association and the Child Health Organization of America, the association has grown rapidly until now the membership numbers nearly 5,000 and extends to many foreign lands.

The aims of the Association are to achieve this child health improvement through helping communities to increase their own health protection to a maximum, through teaching, literature, the founding of scholarships for doctors, teachers and nurses in health work, and by other means designed to increase the health knowledge of parents and children.

Herbert Hoover is president of the Association. Dr. L. Emmett Holt, noted child health authority, is first vice-president; Courtney Dinwiddie is general executive, and Ella Phillips Crandall is associate general executive. Headquarters of the Association are at 532 Seventeenth Street, Washington, and executive offices at 370 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

RUTH'S TWO HOMERUNS WIN FOR YANKEES

Walton Declines To Appear Before Oklahoma Legislators

McBee Chosen Unanimously As House Speaker

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 11.—W. D. McBee, the "Patrick Henry of Oklahoma," won the toga of a Speakership of the House of Representatives in the special session of the Legislature, opening here today.

McBee was unanimously chosen at the preliminary caucus here last night. 84 representatives answered roll call. The position of speaker pro tempore was left unfilled at the caucus session but it was indicated today that Charles Brice, McAlester, who has temporarily filled the place, would continue in that capacity with M. C. Binion, Oklahoma City as sergeant-at-arms.

No change in the Senate organization was made. Tom Anglin, Holden, continuing as president pro tem and Wash Hudson, Tulsa, as floor leader, it was stated.

No change in the plan of the House as to their procedure in the special session was announced. Immediate moves will be made toward the investigation of the official acts of the administration from that of the state executive on down the scale, according to Speaker McBee today.

"Committees will be put to work without delay and their reports should be forthcoming within a few days," he declared.

"Despite the charges made against some members of the House relative to membership in the Ku Klux Klan and the attitude of the governor toward a special session, the House will be guided by its findings. We shall be as quick to acquit as to condemn," McBee declared.

The question of the offer of the governor to resign from office upon passage of his proposed anti-klan bill immediately after the opening of the session was not discussed at the caucus.

Governor Walton today settled all doubt as to his rumored unconditional resignation in any event.

House Members Considering Executive Message

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11.—Reversing his decision at the last minute Governor Walton declined to appear before the Legislators with a personal message, and turned it over to House members for consideration. No reason was given for change in his plans. House members are considering the message.

Called into extraordinary session by a proclamation issued by the governor, dated October 6, more than 100 members of the Oklahoma Legislature heard the plea of the state executive for the passage of a measure underwriting law and order.

In his plea for the passage of an anti-klan measure, designed to make the wearing of the mask a felony punishable by fine and imprisonment, the governor declared: "The law which you pass must not be a makeshift, merely an expediency measure only, but it must be in truth, in fact and in law, one that has teeth and will meet the alarming situation."

The Governor reviewed the spread of lawlessness throughout the state in the last few months, attributing its rapid spread to activities of secret organizations. He declared that testimony taken by military courts under martial law administration laid the blame for growing lawlessness "at the doors of the Ku Klux Klan which represented in an exaggerated form, fear, falsehood and religious hatred."

The message of the governor, formally opened the special assembly.

Community Power And Light Company To Spend $250,000 In Improvements In Mexia And Surrounding Places

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—A dozen Central Texas towns, heretofore furnished electric power as units of two individual groups, have been drawn together in a single group provided in articles of incorporation chartered Oct. 1 as the Community Power and Light Company, and henceforth will be operated by the one concern. Detailed announcement of the plans of operation of the new concern were made Wednesday from the office of Fred A. Jones in the Interurban Building. Mr. Jones will be president of the Community Power and Light Company and direct the operations.

The two properties that have been organized into a single corporation are in the vicinity of Mexia and Marlin. The Mexia group of properties was acquired by Mr. Jones 8 months ago and have been operated under his direction during the time he has been negotiating for the taking over of both sets of properties by the new organization. The Mexia group includes an electric power plant and distribution system at Mexia and distribution systems at Wortham, Tehuacana, Coolidge, and Groesbeck. It includes also an ice plant at Teague.

The properties grouped about Marlin and formerly operated as parts of that organization include electric power plants and distribution systems at Marlin, Rosebud, and Mart with distribution systems at Chilton, Reisel, Travis and Lott. Ice plants at Marlin, Mart and Rosebud, and a refrigerating plant at Lott as a distributing point for ice.

To Spend $250,000 Now

Consummation of the financial arrangements for the taking over of the properties provides for an immediate outlay of $250,000 in extensions, additions and improvements. High tension transmission lines will be installed immediately to give assurance of certainty of service, together with an additional reserve for all of the units of the two groups. Now generating units will be installed at Mexia and steps will be taken to provide electric power service for the oil fields in the Mexia territory, Mr. Jones said.

Mexia and Marlin citizens have cooperated in bringing to pass the new organization, and a large amount of stock is owned by citizens of those towns and the others affected. The Community Power and Light Company was chartered with a capitalization of $1,000,000 but the negotiations have dealt with property of a value of about $2,000,000 is represented in bonds.

Jones To Be President

It is known that Mr. Jones will be president, but final organization has not been effected. Other Texas men who have taken a leading part in handling the negotiations and who

Baseball Magician And Mighty Babe Fight It Out For World Pennant

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Columnist)
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Down in a dug-out at the Polo grounds, where the Yankees and the Giants, conjurer, baseball magician and master mind.

From his nimble fingers, which dangle in invisible wires and with nine mannequins upon the field.

At the plate stands George Herman Ruth, the mighty Babe. In his fists he carries a caveman club. With it he pokes at the invisible wires of John McGraw, slashes and batters at them. With speedy legs he races around the bases, races against the invisible waves of the conjurer.

Thus is the world series of 1923 between the Yankees and the Giants a tete-tete between John McGraw, master mind and Babe Ruth, the master ball player. An age old battle, brain against brawn. A psychobal feud.

Giants won the first game of the series because the brain of McGraw was greater than the bat of Ruth.

It was Casey Stengel who pounded out the winning run for the Nationals, but it was John McGraw who made it possible.

McGraw uses the simplest signals in the world. With them he directs practically every ball that is pitched to the Yankee batters. With them he tells his batter when to hit and when not to.

The conjurer works upon simple principles. He believes that the judgment of a man on the bench, out of the thrill of the contest is better than the man working under the excitement of an actual play. He believes he can tell about seven times out of whether the next bat is going to strike or a ball. He believes that he can outguess the Yankee batter on the bench better than any one in the field.

McGraw gives his signals with his hands and the position of his body. They are relayed when the team is in the field by Snyder or Gowdy, his catchers. Watson was taken out of the box

Giants 2 And Yankees 4 Result Of Game

(The Mexia Daily News is indebted to L. V. Kennedy, Manager of the Kennedy Electric Station, 707 East Commerce Street, for the radio report of the World Series games now being played in New York City. The radio set has been placed freely at the disposal of The News in order that graphic and complete returns might be given the public, immediately after the game. They will be given daily throughout the series).

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Yesterday was John McGraw's day. Today is Babe Ruth's. He's the Yankee hero; forever enshrined in baseball as the wizard of the home run world. He knocked 2 home runs in the second game of the world's series and the Yankees won the first game against the Giants in the past two years by two scores. The game was 4 to 2 in favor of the Yanks who went a visiting today in Polo Grounds.

Clouds were heavy over the Polo Grounds when the crowds strained to witness the beginning of the second game in the world's baseball series in the home of the Giants this afternoon. The sun was not in view and the sky was completely overcast with the temperature higher and some prospect of showers. It was believed, however, that the game could be finished without interference from the elements. The crowd in the grand stand was estimated at 30,000 at 12:58. The attendance the first day was over 60,000.

The first game was played in the Yankee stadium, where the Yanks were slightly favored, playing at home. Today, the scene shifted. At the Polo grounds the Giants were at home, and with a one game lead on their ancient foes, they were favored to win.

Last year the second game was a yesterday because he refused to obey these signals, it is learned. Watson thought he knew what was best to do. McGraw let him get by with it for three innings and then jerked him. The Yanks had hit Watson for three runs.

"You can sit there for a while and watch how this team is run," McGraw sarcastically remarked when Watson came in from the mound.

The Yankee attack and defense is centered around Babe Ruth. No matter how many stars or near-stars are on the team, it wins only when Ruth is good and loses only when he is bad. Ruth is in top condition this year and McGraw's brain is as alert as it ever was.

The feud is on and one of them will win the baseball championship of the world.

Martial Law Lifted In Oklahoma Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11.—Martial law was lifted from Oklahoma today. Announcement calling off of military rule, declared by Governor Walton September 15, was made by Aldrich Blake, executive counsellor. The order is effective immediately. Troops will be sent home at once and military courts automatically suspended. Only scattered bodies of troops are on duty throughout the state, and these will be dismissed today.

ten inning tie between the same two teams that are now playing baseball as never before. Last year the Giants had won the first game just as they did Wednesday. The third game in 1922 was also won by the Giants 3 to 0; the fourth by 4 to 3 and the fifth by 5 to 3.

When the game began it was estimated that 45,000 were in attendance, game starting at 2:02 p. m.

The Yanks were first up. Witt, center fielder, went out. Frisch to Kelley. His average at the bat last year was .222 per cent out of 18 times up. Dugan third baseman, accepted 4 balls of McQuillen, walking to first. With a record of 41 home runs this year, Babe Ruth advanced to the plate next and was also given a free pass to first. R. Meusel hit into a double play, Bancroft to Bush to Kelly. No runs, no hits, and no errors.

Bancroft, with a percentage of .211 in last year's series out of 18 times up, went out on a grounder. Scott to Pipp, Groh, with a batting average of .474 in 19 trips to the bat last year, went out. Pennock to Pipp. Frisch went out at first. Ward to Ripp. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Pipp who had 21 batting chances in the 1922 series and made .226 per cent went out. Groh to Kelly. Groh made a beautiful catch. Ward was next up, with a low average of .154 per cent at the bat last year, knocking a home run into upper left field stand, a wonderful drive, and the first score of the game.

Schang popped up to Snider, foul. Schang out. Scott, batting average .143 out of 14 times up in 4 games last year, flew out to Meusel. 1 run, 1 no errors.

McQuillen opened for the Giants. Last year he played in 5 world series games and established a high batting average of .375 per cent. He popped out to Yankee third baseman Dugan. It was then E. Meusel's time up. He played in 5 games last year and made a batting average of .250 per cent. He duplicated the feat of Ward, knocking a homer into the same spot, tying the score. Cunningham, 4 games last year, with an average at bat of .200 per cent, flew out to Babe Ruth, who made a beautiful catch. Kelly, 5 games, .278 average, singled on first ball pitched. Snider went out on a pop up to Ward. 1 run, 2 hits and no errors.

Pennock was first man to bat for the Yankees in the third. He did not play with the club last season. He went out, Bush to Kelly. Witt came up for his second trip to the bat in today's game, going out. Bush to Kelly. Dugan flew out to Meusel, knocking the ball near the left field wall. No runs, no hits and no errors.

McQuillen played in only one game last year, batting .250 per cent out of 4 trips up. He went out to Pipp, having bunted the second ball delivered him, Dugan making a sensational play. Bancroft lined out to Meusel. Groh was given a pass. Frisch up. His bat flew out of his hand down third base line, on first ball thrown at him, second time. Continued on page two.

Yankees Get Off On The Wrong Foot

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Off on the wrong foot again, the New York Yankees were facing the prospect of having some unpleasant bits of 1921 and 1922 history repeat themselves as the world series today with the Giants they prepared for the second game of Down one on the National League champions, outplayed and out thought in a game they should have won at least six times, the plight of the Yankees was painful.

After yesterday's exhibition of how they can't play ball, the Yankees must have felt this morning like the weather—cloudy, murky, gloomy and sour.

Wetted down by a night of intermittent rainfall, the field at the Polo Grounds where the battle is to be resumed today was ready to give the spectators and the fans another day to think over one of the greatest games ever played which opened the series.

Commissioner Landis said this morning that he had received a report that the field was in good condition and that the teams would play this afternoon if the threatened rain held off.

One wise crack was made after the game that no team in the world could have lost a game like the opening conflict but the Yankees. No other major league team of first division class could have acted so mentally sluggish and so mechanically uncertain.

8 School Children Killed When Train Crashes Into Motor Bus At Crossing; Second Similar Accident Of Day Kills 3

23 Indicted On Felony Charges

TEAGUE, Texas, Oct. 11.—Judge J. R. Bell called a special grand jury in the district court at Fairfield last week, which has since reported 23 felony indictments, including one for murder at Wortham and another for rape in the eastern part of the county.

The Weather
Tonight and Friday, cloudy, unsettled and warmer.

ATWATER, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Eight children were killed and several injured today when a bus crowded with school children was demolished by the Cleveland, the fastest train in the Pennsylvania Railroad between New York and Cleveland.

The accident occurred at Lambert's Crossing, a short distance from here.

Calls were sent for doctors and nurses for miles around.

The engineer of the train saw the vehicle too late to jam on the brakes. A second later there was a terrific crash.

The children, some instantly killed, some dying and others badly injured, were hurled in all directions.

The locomotive plowed through the wreckage, scattering it along the right-of-way for several hundred feet.

As soon as the train came to a stop members of the train crew and passengers began picking up the victims.

While a score of passengers were picking up the victims, laying their maimed and battered bodies at the track side, others rushed to the nearest farm house to send in telephone calls for help.

The bus was used by the county to convey children to and from the schools.

A few minutes after the crash the dead, dying and injured were placed on the train and rushed into Painesville, where doctors and nurses were waiting at the station.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 11.—A fast Pennsylvania express train crashed into a motor bus loaded with ten passengers at a grade crossing near here, completely wrecking the bus, killing three persons and injuring seven others, two perhaps fatally. The train was traveling at a high rate of speed when it crashed into the bus.

Championship Still Found In Freestone

TEAGUE, Texas, Oct. 11.—Carrying his family for a recent outing on Trinity river in the eastern part of the county, Sheriff David Terry discovered the largest corn whiskey still yet unearthed by him. The Sheriff left the still but later returned and guarded it for one night and part of the next day, but no one claimed the same. He then brought it to jail and destroyed a large amount of mash and other materials found with it.

BROTHER MODERATOR

The legislative session convening in Oklahoma City today recalls an incident that happened in the Capitol of the Sooner State at the first meeting of the legislature held within its handsome walls. The imposing building then loomed high about the cotton stalks which surrounded it, about a mile from the residential district of Oklahoma City. When the first session of the legislature met the stalks had not been cut and the burrs were still hanging on. It was said that many of the statesmen then assembled felt so much at home in such an environment that they did most effective work. One good man occupying a desk in the Hall of Representatives for the first time, anxious to present a matter of prime importance to the Speaker arose and addressed the chair as "Brother Moderator!"

The House was in an uproar for a few minutes, while the Speaker warned them to be moderate.

Moderateness, temperance and all other synonyms are in order in the Oklahoma legislature now. The representatives of the people must clear away all prejudices and false views more dangerous even than masks and enter upon their work with but one common purpose—the greatest good for the greatest number.

With the street in front of the high school closed while paving is in progress, some parking rules should be promulgated that would be protective of the public. Parking should be permitted on one side of the paving there. The street is made too narrow for passage almost when a line of automobiles line up parallel or angular.

Dengue fever is raging in many localities in Texas. This is a warning to Mexia and to citizens everywhere to be vigilant eternally in seeing that all menaces to public health are carried promptly to the incinerator.

Without any statement from Jesse McLendon it is now fully understood by every one who knows the President of the Mexia baseball club just how he happens to be vacating in New York City so long.

Texas has a large turkey crop this year. Many a gobbler will be shipped into this community for local consumption this year that ought to have been home-grown.

It should be very easy for local pastors and for the ministry throughout the United States to cooperate with fire prevention week.

Walton hasn't a chance for the banner with Casey at the bat.

SHRINERS BRING EMBREE SHOWS TO MEXIA

The Mexia Shrine Club have engaged the Embree United Shows for the week beginning October 15th and will give this carnival in town for the week.

The show carries with it, the usual midway scenes, hot dogs, peas, confetti, various riding devices and a number of tent shows.

The grounds will be well lighted and will resemble very much Coney Island of New York.

Shriners will have charge of all the shows and riding devices and will be seen on the grounds each night in air feat, grabbing tickets and boosting the fun along.

Embree Shows have the reputation of being a first class, clean show in every respect, otherwise the Shriners would not have engaged them in Mexia.

The Mexia Shrine Club has quite an extensive program on hand at this time; nearing the approach of the Mexican Temple fall ceremonial in Waco which will be staged on November 22, they are making preparations to run a special train to carry the ladies and their ladies from this section; furthermore they are right in the middle of rehearsals for a minstrel show which will be staged within the next two weeks, and they expect to be very active during the fall, staging many entertainments for the nobility and their ladies.

In Waco, they expect to enter a float in the parade that will not only represent the Mexia Shrine Club, but will represent the city of Mexia in a large way and Mexia will be made to feel that the Shrine Club is a prime factor in boosting for the home town, as Shriners everywhere are growing assets of their respective cities and are representatives of good citizenship.

A MOTHER IN HEAVEN

I do not want a house of gold,
Nor walls of jacinth rare,
I don't want a golden harp,
Or hale round my hair.

I only want a little place
Away from all the rest,
Where I can soothe a baby's cries,
Against my hungry breast.

DEMONSTRATION GARAGES

Contract has been awarded to the firm of Werner, Denning and Lee for the construction of a modern private garage on north Canton street.

Tatum & Phillips are erecting a modern garage at their home on South McKinney street.

Ruth came to the bat in the first of the fourth frame. He responded to the clamor in the stands from Yankee favorites to increase his home run record, by hitting a home run, the ball soaring high and into the upper stands in which two more balls had fallen in the same game. The stands went wild at this event, while Babe circled the diamond, having the edge on McGraw who was directing Giant play from behind the scenes of the maddening throng. R. Meusel fanned, Pipp singled in front of Young in right field, who was too slow to gather it up. Ward popped to Kelley on a fluke bunt, Pipp remaining on first mound. Schang singled to right, Pipp advancing to third, when Young made the first error of the game. Scott singled to center field, scoring Pipp. McQuinlan was at this juncture relieved by Bentley in the pitcher's box. Pennock went to bat, Scott on first base and Schang on second. Pennock was hit by a ball, falling to the ground as if painfully hurt. Manager Huggins bitterly denounced Bentley, accusing him of doing it on purpose. The ball hit him in the back just below the neck. He was able to go to first, filling the bases. Witt flew out to Cunningham. 2 runs, 3 hits and 1 error.

E. Meusel up for the Giants gave Ward, second baseman, an opportunity to do some pretty fielding by knocking the ball to his part of the field, going out Ward to Pipp. Cunningham, center fielder, flew out to Ruth. Kelly fanned. No runs, no hits and no errors. Score to date: Yanks 3, Giants 1.

Dugan went out Bancroft to Kelly. Ruth set the stands crazy by hitting his second home run of the game, the ball going into the lower right field stand. R. Meusel singled to right and took second when Young fumbled for the third error of the game. Pipp went out to Kelly at first, Meusel going to third. Ward fowled out to Kelly. 1 run, 2 hits, 1 error.

Snider flew out to Meusel. Bentley came to bat. The outfield moved back as if expecting something. It was the pitcher's first time up. He went out Ward to Pipp. Bancroft went out Scott to Pipp. No runs, no hits, no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 1.

Sixth inning:
Schang went out on first ball pitched, his hard drive nicely handled, Bancroft to Kelly. Scott singled, making it to first safely. Pennock was next up. Scott was almost caught trying to leave first. Pennock hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelly. No runs, 1 hit and no errors.

Groh singled over second base. Frisch singled to left field. Groh to third. Young singled forcing Frisch to second, Groh scoring. Cunningham next up fell into a double play, Scott to Ward to Pipp. 1 run, 2 hits and no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Seventh inning:
Witt out Bentley to Kelly. Dugan out Bentley to Kelly. Ruth was up again. The outfield moved far into the back ground. He was given a free trip to first and was caught trying to steal second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kelly fouled out to Pipp. Snider flew out to Meusel on first ball pitched. Bentley doubled over second on the ninth ball thrown, making it to second by a slide. Bancroft flew out to Dugan who caught the ball against the wall. No runs, no hits, no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Eighth Inning:
Meusel fouled out to catcher behind the plate. Pipp walked. Ward singled past Bancroft, Pipp advancing one base. Schang flew out to Meusel near the third base line. Scott flew out to Meusel on first ball pitched. No runs, 1 hit and no errors.

Groh went out Dugan to Pipp. Frisch out Scott to Pipp. Young singled on first ball pitched, beyond Scott. E. Meusel singled to right field, Young going to third. Gowdy flew out to Witt. Two hits, no runs and no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Ninth Inning:
Stengel went to center field for Cunningham. (Pennock has fully recovered from hit ball.) Pennock, first up, went out on second ball thrown, Bancroft to Kelly. Witt out Frisch to Kelly. Ruth went to bat, Dugan on second base. He flew out to Stengel. 0 runs, no hits and no errors.

Kelly went out, Dugan to Pipp, on first ball. Snyder went out on second ball pitched, Scott to Pipp. Jackson flew out to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors. Yankees 4, Giants 2.

Yankees 4 runs, 9 hits and no errors. Giants 2 runs, 9 hits, 2 errors. Game called at 2:02. Time of game 2 hours and 10 minutes.

Umpires: O'Day behind plate; Nalbin, behind first base; Hart, second base; Evans third base.

Line up same as Wednesday except the batteries which started out Yanks, Pennock and Schang; Giants, McQuinlan and Snyder.

COMMUNITY POWER—Yd.

will have voices in the management of the enterprise, include George H. Carter, attorney, who has figured in all of the negotiations; Julius Nussbaum of Mexia, N. A. Nama of Marlin and W. D. Alexander of Mexia.

E. B. Neiswanger, for ten years chief engineer of the Texas Light and Power Company, has been supervising the engineering work and will be retained, Mr. Jones said.

Grover C. Bland, Texas representative of Haskins & Sells, also will remain identified with the company as auditor of the properties.

Wiley F. Corl of St. Louis, representative of St. Louis financial interests which have helped to finance the concern, is in Dallas, and with Mr. Jones will begin an immediate survey of the properties that probably will require two weeks.

"It is our purpose," Mr. Jones said "to maintain all of the service that is now being given and to serve the territory we are invading in the best way we possibly can. We plan also to improve the service in every way possible, and when the $250,000 already provided is spent there will be more provided if we need it to give the proper kind of service."

YANKS GET

out; Schang doubled in the sixth with two out; Rugan tripled in the seventh with one out and Pipp singled in the eighth with one out—and the Yankees didn't score.

Stupid base running by Witt and Pipp and the over-daring of Babe Ruth in trying as Ruth always tries to win cost the Yankees the game.

Jimmy O'Connell the $75,000 California beauty remarked quietly after the game:

"The best way to beat the Yankees is to let them get on bases because they don't know what to do when they get there."

The mental alertness and the mechanical perfection of the Giants stopped every chance the Yankees had to win the game. Stengel's home run in the ninth inning was the decisive punch that caused the Yankees to take the count but it was George Kelly's miraculous stop of Ruth's sure double in the seventh and his phenomenal throw to the plate cutting off Dugan that stopped a winning rally by the Yankees.

No play in any series game could compare with the quick-thinking and action provided by Kelly—senatorial Rawlings, Groh double play that made out in the 1921 series.

The Giants—all figures they are "in" now.

"That victory will be worth more than if we had beaten them 15 to 0," one of the Giant players said today.

"If they had gone down in a one-sided game they would have thought that fine pitching stopped them, that they had all the bad breaks or that they were in a slump. But they put-hit us and we out-thought them and they knew they should have won the game. The Yankees can't think. They know it and they know that they can't learn to think in a few days."

The Giant players feel that they would take the series in straight games if they had Herb Pennock out of the way in the opener. The champions do not attempt to deny that they regard the lefthanded former Boston pitcher very seriously.

Pennock no doubt will pitch today, for the Yankees and it is almost certain that Art Nehf, the Giant southpaw, will oppose him. Nehf was ready to go yesterday and he was peeved that he wasn't selected.

With Pennock in the box for the Yankees the Giants will make a switch in the outfield where Bill Cunningham will replace Casey Stengel. The other positions on the defense will be manned by the same agile, quick-thinking athletes.

All the Yankee regulars bat against and they all think the same way lefthanded and righthanded pitching against all kinds of pitching. As long as the Yankees refuse to exercise their mental apparatus, the alleged weakness of the Giant pitching staff will be no factor in the series.

The Giant players probably will tell their pitchers—"let 'em get on base and we'll take care of 'em for you."

For spectacular playing yesterday, Stengel and Kelly held the limelight, but Frank Frisch, the brilliant Fordham star, had as much to do with the victory as any one. He made two phenomenal plays that cut off runs he was all over the field.

The official paid attendance was 55,307 which made a new series record was 58,000. The receipts, which also and the actual attendance probably established a new record, were $181,912, which was divided as follows: Advisory council $27,286.80; each club's share $30,925.05, players share, $22,775.12.

How you get into these straightaway races, you get into them straightaway. Some of those looks and scowls may kill some one yet.

Combination Underwear and Brassiere

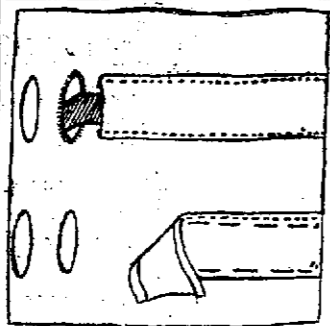

French Underwear Is Lovelier Than Ever

For simplicity and novel detail the new lingerie offerings of Paris surpass anything that previous seasons have presented. The combination idea is expressed in many delightful ways that not only achieve novelty, but fit in with the plans to keep the figure slender and sylph-like.

A brassiere and underwear are combined in this undergarment, which should be made of glove silk, radium taffeta or a good firm quality crepe de chine. It is exquisite in its simplicity and the materials that Paris favors are flower-stained and delicate—orchid, tea rose, bluebell and daffodil.

The brassiere effect is formed by stitching bands of tape on the reverse side of the vest. These form casings through which ribbon is run and when the fulness is drawn in, one gets the snugness of the brassiere that holds the figure in form without uncomfortable restriction.

After the ribbon is inserted in the casing, it is brought through to the right side of the underwear, being passed through embroidered eyelets. Either a double or single strand of thread may be used for working the eyelets. First pierce the eyelets with a stiletto, then make small running stitches entirely around the eyelet. Keep shaping the eyelet as you work. Next, weave the eyelet. Draw the thread as tightly as possible without letting the stitches crowd on top of one another. All of the stitches should be made to lie flat, close and even. Fasten the thread on the underside with two or three loop stitches, taken through the threads of the overcasting stitches, and not through the material.

Correctly Stitched on Wrong Side of Garment with Ribbon Run Through and Tied on Right Side

Do not make the eyelets too close to where the casings end, otherwise the material will wear faster than is necessary. If very wide ribbon is used, make oblong eyelets instead of round ones. If a heavy effect is desired, the eyelets may be padded slightly before it is worked. Button-holing as well as overcasting stitches may be employed when making eyelets. The buttonholed eyelet is very durable, and is preferable when the eyelets are very large.

The lower edge of the vest may be hemstitched by hand or by machine. The hem is put in with the ribbon. The shoulder straps may be made of ribbon or of lace.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 11.—Alfred O. Anderson, publisher of the Dallas Dispatch pulled a new one in the game of cards upon arriving home after a trip to Europe.

He says that on the steamer coming back he and a Mr. Phillips asked a Passaic girl to get a Miss Pritchard and have a game of bridge.

"No," she replied, "I'm afraid not, Miss Pritchard is sitting on the deck."

Dependability

DEPENDABILITY is one of the most comforting words in the English language. You retire on board ship, or in your berth secure in the knowledge that the captain or engineer can be depended upon. And when you have money in this bank the same sense of security and dependability brings you a good nights sleep every twelve hours.

FARMERS STATE BANK

Outlook Is Brightened

According to a report made to the board of directors of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce by the secretary who attended an Industrial Conference in Dallas on Oct. 4th, it appeared that interest in the building of cotton mills in the Southwest, on the part of investors in the East, is beginning to revive.

J. Perry Burris, president of Dallas Textile Mills and founder and President of McKinney Cotton Mill, and who is also chairman of the Industrial Committee of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, stated at the meeting Saturday that the had just returned from a trip to Northern, Eastern and Southeastern points. According to Mr. Burris, labor conditions in the New England states are constantly growing more and more unsatisfactory and a number of the eastern mills are closed, one very large mill manufacturing a well known brand of gingham being closed within the last few days. Due to the exodus of negro labor to the north and to the ravages of the boll weevil, the cotton crop in the South-eastern states has been enormously reduced and the mills in these states are going to be forced to look to Texas for a large part of their raw material.

Cotton mill men are becoming more imbued with the idea that the mill should be located in the cotton patch, so to speak. That is, the factory should be where the raw material is produced. It is estimated that in 1923 Texas will raise about 38% of all the cotton crop, and it appears that the dry crop in the summer tends to reduce the ravages of the boll weevil and will more than likely increase preponderance of Texas cotton production as compared with the other cotton producing states. There has not been the exodus of cotton producing labor from Texas as has occurred in the other states, and it therefore appears that for a number of years to come Texas will be advantageously situated for the manufacture of cotton goods and from all signs it looks as though the present was a favorable time to revive and put over the Mexia textile mills.

Everything possible is being done pending the return to Mexia of J. K. Hughes, chairman of the Industrial Committee. In fact, the Chamber of Commerce is now in touch with an experienced cotton mill operator who will make a considerable investment and who is capable of designing, building and operating the mill. Should the promotion go through and the trade with the party referred to, he

It also appeared that there has been a popular misconception in the minds of the cotton mill people generally as to the labor situation of Mexia. Some of them believe that the presence of the oil field will make cotton mill labor hard to obtain but the Chamber of Commerce believes that since they have been advised of this misapprehension that they will have no trouble in abating the minds of those having this opinion. They are now engaged in compiling a report as to the wages paid in every conceivable line of business and industry and the report will be rendered as soon as compiled to the people desiring same.

Pending the return of Chairman Hughes of the cotton mill committee, the Chamber of Commerce states that they do not feel at liberty to make any authorized statement giving names, etc., until he returns and calls the committee together, but the Chamber of Commerce feels that they are nearer on the right track now than they have ever been before on the cotton mill proposition and they would like for the public to know that they are still at it, though they have had many difficulties to contend with, but they have not given up hope and have been at work constantly.

FACTS ABOUT PRESIDENTS

(From the Kansas City Star)

A study of the lives of the thirty presidents of the United States reveals numerous interesting facts, coincidences and odd features.

For instance, only one of them was a bachelor. James Buchanan, Scotch-Irish, holds that distinction.

Buchanan was the fifteenth president. His home, when elected, was Wheatland, Pa. He was inaugurated when 65 years old. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. He died June 1, 1868, when 77 years old.

William Henry Harrison was the oldest man elected to the presidency and Theodore Roosevelt the youngest. Harrison was in at 68 and Roosevelt at 42. Grant was the next youngest by six months.

General Benjamin Harrison, the twenty-third president, was the great-grandson of Benjamin Harrison, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and was the grandson of William Henry Harrison, American general and ninth president.

Washington and Monroe were soldiers of the Revolutionary war, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Jackson, Taylor and Buchanan were in the war of 1812. Lincoln served in the Black Hawk war; Taylor, Pierce and Grant in the Mexican war; Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Benjamin Harrison and McKinley in the Civil war. Theodore Roosevelt fought in the Spanish-American war.

President Cleveland was a bachelor

One president has been a pope, following in the footsteps of his father. The sixth president, John Quincy Adams, was the son of the second president, John Adams.

Of the thirty presidents, seven were born in Virginia, and five were residents of Virginia when elected. Ohio, the home State of the late President Harding was the birth State of seven presidents. Six presidents lived in Ohio when elected. President Coolidge was born in Vermont, as was President Arthur.

Three presidents were born in North Carolina and three in New York. Massachusetts was the home State of two presidents, John Adams and John Quincy Adams. One president was born in Pennsylvania, one in Kentucky and one in New Jersey.

As to ancestry, sixteen of the presidents show English parentage, Washington, John Adams, and John Quincy Adams, Madison, Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, Tyler Taylor Fillmore, Pierce, Lincoln, Johnson, Garfield, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, Taft and Coolidge.

Six were of Scotch-Irish ancestry; three of Scotch, one of Welch, one of Scotch-Holland and two of Dutch.

The nation was without a president for just four hours and forty-seven minutes after President Harding died at San Francisco.

This is the shortest period the highest office of the land has been vacant after the death of a chief executive.

When President William Henry Harrison, the first national executive to die in office, passed away April 4, 1841, two days elapsed before his successor, John Tyler, took the oath of office and became president.

President Taylor died in office July 9, 1850, and Millard Fillmore, the vice president, took office the following day.

A day elapsed between the death of Lincoln and the administering of the oath to his successor, Andrew Johnson.

President Garfield died September 19, 1881, and was succeeded one day later by Chester A. Arthur. A little more than thirteen hours intervened between the death of President William McKinley, who died September 14, 1901, and the accession of Theodore Roosevelt. President McKinley died at 2:15 o'clock the morning of September 14. President Roosevelt took the oath as president at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, immediately after he had visited Mrs. McKinley to offer his condolence.

AUSTIN.—City Hall officials here estimate that a bond issue of $400,000 will be required for a water purification plant for this city that is in contemplation.

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 11.—"I wonder what's going to happen next?" C. J. Chandler told attendants when he left the Baptist hospital here recently. The day Chandler arrived here from Padroon, Texas, to enter a barber college his suit case and all his clothes were stolen. That night someone took all his savings—$78. Wandering around town, broke, he landed a job in a fig orchard near here. Coming to town in a truck with the farmer an automobile sideswiped their truck and Chandler was bruised and cut by broken glass. "Houston sure is a hard place for a country boy," Chandler said as he walked down the steps of the hospital.

Worth Library

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 11.—Is the copy of the fresco "The Dispute of the Scriptures" missing from the Carnegie Library here worth $10,000 or valueless?

That is the question that has arisen since the copy disappeared from the library several weeks ago.

Mrs. Charles Scheuber, librarian, says it is ridiculous to value the copy at $10,000 as J. H. Enfield, who owns the picture, claims. Enfield obtained the picture while serving in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war. He declared the canvas won first prize at the Paris Exhibition in 1897.

Mrs. Scheuber said a young man brought the painting to the library several months ago to be stored. It was put away and forgotten by her. Some time ago a young man called and asked for the painting and it was given to him. Later Enfield appeared and asked for the copy. He was told it already had been called for and taken.

Enfield has threatened suit against the library.

Luna, the artist who made the copy is unknown among art critics here.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon J. R. Alford by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in November, A. D. 1923, the same being the 6th day of November, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer an amended petition filed in said Court on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2456, wherein Berry Barnett Grocery Company, a corporation, is plaintiff, and N. F. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood, C. B. Jackson and J. R. Alford are defendants, said petition alleging that N. F. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood and C. B. Jackson are partners and doing business under the firm name of Commercial Hotel Company, and J. R. Alford was doing business under the trade name of the Rex Cafe; that plaintiff at the special instance and request of the defendant, Commercial Hotel Company sold to them on the several dates specified in an account certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries needed in running said business; that in consideration of the sale of said goods, defendant promised to pay therefor the amount charged in said account, being $604.20; that on October 14, 1921, plaintiff at the instance and request of defendant Rex Cafe sold and delivered to it goods, wares and merchandise which said Rex Cafe agreed to pay to the amount charged therefor same being $620.63, that said cafe was run by J. R. Alford until December 16, 1921, when he sold an interest in said cafe to the Commercial Hotel Company; that at that time said cafe owed this plaintiff the sum of $589.88; that on or about December 16, 1921, J. R. Alford doing business under the name of Rex Cafe being indebted to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company in the sum of $573.91 the said N. F. Ferguson, and J. R. Alford represented to plaintiff that the said sum of $573.91 would not have to be paid within thirty days if he, the said Ferguson, would purchase an interest in the Rex Cafe; that said Commercial Hotel Company would pay said $573.91 within thirty days; plaintiff agreed to said contract and in pursuance thereof the said Ferguson, Underwood and Jackson purchased an interest in said Cafe and in consideration thereof promised to pay plaintiff and the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the amount mentioned. That the said J. R. Alford transferred to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company an interest in the Rex Cafe and placed them in possession thereof.

Plaintiff would show to the Court that on November 8, 1921, and January 13, 1922, the Mexia Wholesale Company sold and delivered to the Rex Cafe certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries for which said Cafe agreed to pay the amount set out in said account the total being the sum of $620.26; that J. R. Alford at that time was the owner of said Cafe, the said Alford being indebted to a number of persons among whom was the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company who sold to said Commercial Hotel Company the said Rex Cafe, agreed to pay said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the indebtedness that the Rex Cafe then owed the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. And afterwards incurred debts to the amount of $106.35 which it promised to pay the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. That afterwards the manager of the Rex Cafe gave to said Grocery Company its check for $492.71 which check was turned down and not paid. That on January 14, 1922, said Hotel Company gave a check to said Wholesale Grocery Company for the sum of $105.35 which check was turned down. Plaintiff would show that it has purchased said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company for a valuable consideration the indebtedness due said Grocery Company from the Rex Cafe and the Commercial Hotel and the same has not yet been paid and plaintiff is entitled to recover said account.

That all of the said accounts are due and unpaid, and the defendants and each of them have refused to pay any part to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1845.14.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a trial hereof they have judgment for said $1845.14 with interest cost of suit, and such other and further relief, as it may be entitled.

Herein fail not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this 4th day of October, A. D. 1923.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon M. F. Parsley by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day thereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published to appear at the next regular term of the Justice Court for Precinct No. 4, of Limestone County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Mexia, Texas, on the second Tuesday in October, A. D. 1923, the same being the 9th day of October, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 18th day of August, A. D. 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 736, wherein E. C. Nicholson is plaintiff, and M. F. Parsley is defendant, said petition alleging that the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff, in the sum of $83.55, as a balance due on a verified account, which is long past due and unpaid and that though often requested, defendant has failed and refused to pay the same or any part thereof, except the sums that have been credited upon the verified account and that by reason for the same, the defendant has become liable to this plaintiff in the further sum of $20.00, as attorney's fees, and costs of suit. Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and that he have judgement for his debt, attorneys fees and costs of suit and for such other and further relief, both special and general in law and in equity to which he is entitled to receive.

Herein fail not but have you before said court on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand this the 11th day of September, A. D., 1922.
